

EUROPEAN COUNCIL FOR SMALL BUSINESS

The European Council for Small Business (ECSB) is the European Affiliate of the International Council for Small Business (ICSB) and is a membership organization committed to a free exchange of ideas within a network of researchers, teachers, trainers, consultants, entrepreneurs, small business representatives and politicians. This network covers Europe in the geographical sense. Currently 22 European countries are represented within the European Council for Small Business.

The secretariat of the ECSB is established at the Department of Small Business Management at the

Vienna University of Economics and Business Administration

(Prof. Dr. Josef Mugler)

Augasse 2-6, 1090 Wien

Tel. 0222/34 75 41/592

Telex 111127 wuw a

Telefax 0222/34 75 41/885

EUROPEAN COUNCIL FOR SMALL BUSINESS

Prof. Josef Mugler serves as the first president of the ECSB until the 1991 World Conference. He is supported by an Executive Committee consisting of

Prof. Allan A. Gibb

Durham, GB

Dipl.Kfm. Dieter Ibielski

Frankfurt, D

Prof. Jean-Jacques Obrecht

Straßburg, F

Prof. Hans Jobst Pleitner

St. Gallen, CH

Each country not represented within the Executive Committee has nominated a Vice President for Membership and Development for the Board of Directors.

THE BENEFITS OF MEMBERSHIP

- Current information on research projects, workshops, conferences and publications in the field of small business and entrepreneurship.
- Integration in an international communication-network giving the opportunity to establish new linkages.
- Receipt of the "Journal for Small Business Management" and of the ICSB-Bulletin (Newsletter of the ICSB).
- Subscriptions to other small business journals at reduced rates.
- Access to International Conferences at reduced registration fees.
- Access to the knowledge of small business experts all over the world through membership directories offering direct lines to every member.
- Opportunity to be integrated in new projects and working groups of the ECSB.